This Week's News...

It's already the second week and exciting learning is in full swing around the school.

Tuesday gave us the chance to discuss learning in school with some of our parents in the Y 234 parent café. It was a great opportunity to talk through the direction of the school, answer questions and hear some positive feedback from parents. Thank you for your ongoing support.

Over the past two weeks, Mr Bell and Miss Crank have been holding Provision Mapping meetings with every year group team. The focus of these meetings is to discuss the progress of every child during the Autumn term and plan for Spring term.

On Thursday, Richard Hunter, our School Improvement Partner from Southwark Local Authority, spent the day in school. He commented on the clear impact of the developments in school, how engaged the children are, how we are fostering a culture of independence, and the brilliant behaviour of our children. The whole team work hard on a daily basis, but it is always great to hear such positive feedback from outside of school.

Today our friends from Little Jungle came to visit to discuss good practice. It is always inspiring to talk with like-minded educators about how children learn!

Enjoy the weekend and wrap up warm,
Mr Bell, Miss Crank and Mrs Harding

Get Fit, Don't Sit – Next week is Walking Challenge at SJSC

Next week (21-25 Jan) we are taking part in the Southwark STARS walking challenge. We are currently in joint third place in the Southwark Walking Champion League. Please help us move up the leader board, at the same time as gaining all the health benefits of leaving your car behind, by walking or scooting to and from school every day next week. Happy Walking.

You may be aware that Southwark Council is conducting a parking and healthier streets study in the 'Peckham West' area. The consultation includes Adys Road. We have been in discussion with our local councillor with regard to traffic and parking issues – we are glad to see that some of our ideas have been incorporated into the proposal. You can see the proposal on the following link:

A couple of friendly reminders...

Please do not tie dogs to the gate at the front of the school, it makes it very difficult for the children to get past.

We ask parents to be mindful not to approach other children to discuss issues. Please see your class teacher if you would like to raise a concern.

Look at what has appeared on the middle floor...

I wonder if this is linked to our exciting reading project.
